Forecast For London & Southeast England
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 0400 on Saturday 10 Jul 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Rain moving eastwards today. Drier and brighter later.

Today:
Outbreaks of rain, locally heavy, will move east this morning across the region and then clear this afternoon. Drier and generally brighter conditions will follow, along with possibly isolated showers. Maximum temperature 19 deg C (66 deg F).

Tonight:
Any early showers will die away, leaving dry conditions with clear spells and very light winds. Some patchy mist, fog or low cloud may form. Minimum temperature 10 deg C (50 deg F).

Sunday:
After a dull start in places bright or sunny spells will develop through the morning, but also isolated showers, these most likely for western areas, and perhaps locally heavy. Maximum temperature 22 deg C (72 deg F).

Outlook for Monday to Wednesday:
Monday and Tuesday spells of rain or showers, both heavy with a chance of thunder. Later Tuesday possibly becoming drier. Then Wednesday brighter and mainly dry, with isolated light showers.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.